By BARBARA WACE . . . Brest, Sept. 18 (Delayed) (AP)-

A few French civilians trudged back into captured Brest today, pushing wheelbarrows piled with mattresses or riding in carts. But there was nething to come back to in this great port city, a picture of desolation and ruin with a majority of its buildings demolished by terrific COLLEGE OPENS aerial and naval bombardment during the Allied siege.

(A dispatch from Allied headquarters last night, which announced the fall of Brest after 45 days of slege, said headquarters sources refused to speculate on whether Allied salvage crews would be put to work? on the port at once. ish tank troops and Allied sky soldiers have captured intact the mile and half-long Nijmegen bridge in a raging 24hour battle in Holland. They thus broke open a path to the relief of a pocket of air-borne troops locked today in a grim fight for life near Arnhem, 8 miles to the north.

The Germans counterattacked by land and bombing from the air in a desperate attempt to save their historic river defense line, but some of the western front's hottest fighting virtually set the seal of doom on perhaps 100,000 enemy troops caught in western Holland.

At Ruhr Doorstep

The whole fate of the Germans' Ruhr Valley and the safety of their entire northern flank was turning on the outcome of this first victory and the unfolding of a second battle about to take place for control of the northern branch of the Dutch Rhine at Arnhem.

As Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey armor raced across the Waal, largest branch of the Dutch Rhine, toward the North, units of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's first Allied air-borne Army-believed to be Americans -apparently were hanging on grimly to positions astride the doorstep of the Ruhr.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Sept. 21 (AP) - American invasion of the Palaus has cost the Japanese the small island of Angaur, most of Peleliu and 7,645 lives, but Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported last night that "the enemy resistance is bitter" on rocky and rugged Peleliu.

The Nimitz communique spoke of 'slow progress being made" in heavy fighting by the First Marine division on Peleliu, where the invasion of the vital Palau line of defenses started a week ago today. The Japanese had the advantage of rocky, timbered elevations.

Air Troops Sealed

London, Sept. 21 (AP)-British tank troops and Allied sky soldiers have captured intact the mile and half-long Nijmegen bridge in a raging 24hour battle in Holland. They thus broke open a path to the relief of a pocket of air-borne troops locked today in a grim fight for life near Arnhem, 8 miles to the north.

The Germans counterattacked by land and bombing from the air in a desperate attempt to save their historic river defense line, but some of the western front's hottest fighting virtually set the seal of doom on perhaps 100,000 enemy troops caught in western Holland.

At Ruhr Doorstep

The whole fate of the Germans' Ruhr Valley and the safety of their entire northern flank was turning on the outcome of this first victory and the unfolding of a second battle about to take place for control of the northern branch of the Dutch Rhine at Arnhem.

As Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey' armor raced across the Waal, largest branch of the Dutch Rhine, toward the North, units of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's first Allied air-borne Army-believed to be Americans -apparently were hanging on grimly to positions astride the doorstep of the Ruhr.

Citing the urgent need for new blood donors in Adams county, the Adams County Red Cross Blood Donor committee has sent special appeals to all of the churches of the county to enroll from their membership "at least one new donor for each star on your service flag.'

The letters, which went out over the signature of Radford H. Lippy, Blood Donor chairman, asks the county pastors to make the appeal for new donors from their pulpits, in the church bulletins and in the Sunday schools. An active enrollment committee in each church is

Mr. Lippy's letter follows in part: Can't Buy Blood

"With our men in the armed forces doing so much, it is quite fitting that we on the home front should back them to the utmost.

"You no doubt by this time have in your church a service flag with quite a few stars. What better service could we give our fighting men than to back up each man you have sent from your church with at least one new Blood Donor for the American Red Cross? Their blood will be made into plasma to save the lives of the ones who are giving their all

"Blood plasma is one of the few SEEK things needed which money cannot buy, only by individuals being willing to give their blood can this be secured. As you already know, blood can be taken painlessly from the individuals at the Blood Donor Bank Center and up to this time many thousands of persons have made one or more contributions.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters. Pearl Harbor, Sept. 21 (AP)-American invasion of the Palaus has cost the Japanese the small island of Angaur, most of Peleliu and 7,645 lives, but Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported last night that "the enemy resistance is bitter" on rocky and rugged Peleliu.

The Nimitz communique spoke of "slow progress being made" in heavy fighting by the First Marine division on Peleliu, where the invasion of the vital Palau line of defenses started a week ago today. The Japanese had the advantage of rocky, timbered elevations, soldiers have captured intact the mile and half-long Nijmegen bridge in a raging 24hour battle in Holland. They thus broke open a path to the relief of a pocket of air-borne troops locked today in a grim fight for life near Arnhem, 8 miles to the north.

The Germans counterattacked by land and bombing from the air in a desperate attempt to save their historic river defense line, but some of the western front's hottest fighting virtually set the seal of doom on perhaps 100,000 enemy troops caught in western Holland.

At Ruhr Doorstep

The whole fate of the Germans' Ruhr Valley and the safety of their entire northern flank was turning on the outcome of this first victory and the unfolding of a second battle about to take place for control of the northern branch of the Dutch Rhine at Arnhem.

As Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey' armor raced across the Waal, largest branch of the Dutch Rhine, toward the North, units of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's first Allied air-borne Army-believed to be Americans -apparently were hanging on grimly to positions astride the doorstep of the Ruhr.

Leonid A. Govorov's Red Army veterans of Leningrad, having destroyed the northern anchorage of the German Baltic line in a massive sweep across Estonia, raced forward today in a double-barreled drive for the enemy escape port of Tallinn.

One wing of Govorov's forces thrusting west from Narva has captured Rahlka, less than 65 miles east of Tallinn, a Russian war bulletin disclosed last night, and presumably was even closer today. Held For Slaying Justice Of Peace

Pottstown, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP) Charles Griffith, 67, of Pottstown, R. D. 2, is being held in Chester county prison on a charge of slaying Rufus Cave, 43, Justice of the Peace R. W. Ralston, Sr., reported

He said Griffith came to his office and gave the first news that Caye had been slain. The Justice of the Peace quoted Griffith as saying he fatally stabbed Cave Tuesday night but didn't report it to Ralston because "I knew you worked in Philadelphía and would not be home until 7 o'clock tonight."

APPETITE FOR ARRANGEMENT The habits of mer are the road signs of their character. They are the compass points that suggest the arrangement of their lives Usually, by the dress and manner of a man, you can picture the sort of an office he works in, or the kind of a home he has. Men betray themselves in their walk and are forever revealing themselves by speech and any number of innocent contrivances.

'A most interesting character was that of Robespierre, the Frenchman, who so dominated the acts of the French Revolution. It is said that he had "a pronounced habit of order, a regularity of demeanour, and a very remarkable capacity for prolonged work." Ever about his personal dress, there was an exactness and perfection of arrangement that gave one a light to the mind of the

The person who has an appetite for arrangement is easily recognized. Even in the talk of such a one, the evidence crops out. Coach Mel Dry will send his Getthrough its final workouts this afternoon in preparation for its open- a five-run rally in the eighth inning. ing game of the season here Friday

The Maroons held a workout under the lights Tuesday evening with daylight drills Wednesday and today.

From advance reports the locals will be in for a busy evening. Shippensburg, playing its first full schedule in several years, is highly optimistic of its team this year. Four regulars remain from last season. three backfield men and one line-posts. Luther Sachs and Dave Rassmussen will be at ends with George Thrush holding an outside chance of starting at a wing position.

Tackles will be Curvin Sanders, a veteran of a year ago, and Allen McDonnell, who has camparatively little experience.

The guards will be Dick Epley, another veteran, and Dick Shealer who has had but little experience. Raff At Center

Another first year man, Donald Raffensperger, will be at the pivot post. All of the new men on the forward wall have been showing great promise and much is expected of them by Coach Dry.

The backfield will probably consist of Fred Haehnlen, quarterback; Dick Whittinghill and Nelson Mattingly, halfbacks, and Willie Tonsel, full-
